EXPLORE THE AREA

Kaleiçi (Old Town) & Marina

Address: Kaleiçi, Muratpaşa, Antalya

The ancient city of Antalya was protected by two walls, in the shape of a horseshoe, one running along the shoreline and the other inland. There were also walls built specifically to separate settlements from each other and watch towers built every fifty feet or so along the outer walls. These walls date back to ancient times when the Romans built on the Hellenic foundations. Eventually these were widened and repaired by the Seldjuks. Many stone blocks with ancient inscriptions were used and the walls were well protected until the 19th century. Some remains of the walls can still be seen today as well as a few turrets, Hadrian's Gate, the Clock Tower, and the Hidirlik Tower. Nowadays the ancient city centre surrounded by sea and land walls is called the Kaleiçi. The streets and buildings still bear the marks of Antalya's history.

The characteristics of the old houses tell not only a tale of architecture but also reflect the social lives, customs, and habits of the people who dwelled in old Antalya and provides us with valuable information about the city's history. The streets in the Old Town are narrow and slope upwards from the harbour. Some of the interesting historical sites to visit within the Old Town are the mosque with the truncated minaret, the fluted minaret (Yivli Minaret) the Keyhusrev Medrese, the Karatay Medrese, the Iskele Mosque, the Tekeli Mehmet Pasa Mosque, and various old chapels, especially the Church of St. George that has been beautifully restored by the Suna-Inan Kiraç foundation.

Perge Ancient City

Address: Barbaros Mahallesi, Perge Yolu, 07112 Aksu/Antalya

Around 1500 B.C., the Hittites settled down in a place we know as Perge. However, some people believe that Perge was founded by Mopsus and Calchas in the 13th century B.C. Invaded by Alexander the Great, much of Perge's architectural splendor is living proof of the Hellenistic period. It was soon followed by the prosperous Roman Imperial period for the first three centuries A.D. With the arrival and spread of Christianity, Perge played an important and active role in its expansion. A slow disintegration of the Roman rule soon followed and the Byzantines occupied Perge. With the end of the Seljuk rule, which followed soon after, Perge was completely ruined and was soon abandoned.

Aspendos Ancient City

Address: Sariabalı Mahallesi, Aspendos Yolu, 07500 Serik / Antalya

In antiquity, Aspendos was probably the most important city in Pamphylia. This glorious city reached its epoch during the Roman period, when trade and commerce flourished here. According to tradition, the city was founded by the famous Greek diviner Mopsos around 1000 BC, and archaeologists have found evidence of a settlement here from the Hittite era (800 BC) onwards.

A D A L Y A

ELITE LARA

Similar to the nearby towns of Perge and Side, the city's eventual decline was due to the silting of its harbour and the centralisation policies of the Byzantine Empire. By the time of Seljuk domination over this part of Turkey, Aspendos' once great theatre was only being used as a caravanserai. Aspendos' theatre is one of the largest ever built by the Romans in Asia Minor, and today it is one of the best preserved examples of Roman theatre architecture. Located in the lower town area of the site, the theatre was built in the 2nd century AD during Marcus Aurelius' reign. The mammoth seating plan could fit an audience of between 15,000 and 20,000. It has been thoroughly restored and is now used for music and drama festivals, including Turkey's famous annual Aspendos Opera Festival.

Termessos Ancient City Centre

Address: Bayatbademleri Mahallesi, 07800 Döşemealtı /Antalya

A visit to the ruins of the ancient city of Termessos is an unforgettable experience, completely different from visiting ancient cities located along the Mediterranean coast. First of all, to get to Termessos, you need to travel to the altitude of 1000 metres into the Taurus mountain range. The difficulties of this journey are quickly compensated by the vista seen from the ancient theatre which is considered to be most ideally situated of all the ancient buildings of its kind in Turkey. Secondly, this Eagle's Nest, as Termessos was called by Alexander the Great, lies in the National Park where the remains of ancient buildings are nestled among a pine forest and a number of rare plant species grow undisturbed by mass tourism. Termessos is shrouded in legends and has been the object of fascination and studies conducted by many travellers and scholars, most notable of them being Karol Lanckoroński - a Polish researcher from Pamphylia who travelled throughout this region in the end of the 19th century. The uniqueness of this place has not gone unnoticed by international organisations - Güllük Mountain National Park and the ruins of Termessos are among the candidates for the UNESCO World Heritage List.

Saklıkent Ski Centre

Address: Güzle Mahallesi, 07800 Korkuteli / Antalya

Saklıkent Ski Centre is situated on the northern side of Bakırlıdağ. The Ski Centre is geographically part of Toros Mountains. Saklıkent Antalya Ski Centre is a newly developing area that you can reach by car as well as cable car from the sea level. That journey promises splendid views of Taurus Mountains and Antalya Bay. Saklıkent Ski Centre is considered the closest available ski resort to the Mediterranean and to the Equator. There are approximately 120 days of skiing availability between mid-December and mid-April. Saklıkent Ski Centre's temperature is rarely under -5 degrees Celsius during the day, and the sunny day average is between 70-80 days per year, which is truly satisfying due to the Mediterranean belt climate. In Saklıkent Ski Centre, the average snow thickness is between 100-230cm and sometimes it reaches up to 5m at peak.

Karain Cave

Address: Yağca Mahallesi, 07190 Antalya Merkez / Antalya

Karain Cave (tr.Karain Mağarası) is one of those places of great historical importance that requires a lot of perseverance from travellers to get to. Moreover, extensive knowledge about prehistory and a vivid imagination are necessary in order to fully appreciate the experience. This cave, located near Antalya, was inhabited by the ancestors of modern man continuously for at least 25,000 years and is the largest Turkish cave where traces of prehistoric human activities have been found. The oldest traces of human occupation that have been discovered in Karain Cave go back to the early Paleolithic i.e. 200,000 years ago. A fragment of Homo neanderthalensis' skull was found in the cave and has been dated to this period. Researchers were able to confirm the continuity of human presence in the cave for a period of more than 25,000 years, from the Mesolithic, through the Neolithic and the Chalcolithic, to the Bronze Age. In the Iron Age, and more precisely, in the time of the Greek colonisation of Asia Minor, the cave was probably used as a religious shrine, as evidenced by the decorations carved into the rock in front of the cave entrance.

Duden Waterfall

Address: Çağlayan Mahallesi, Lara Cd. No:457, 07230
Muratpaşa/Antalya

Duden waterfall is a very special place in Antalya, that not very many tourists have yet discovered – at least not the upper waterfalls, located around 12km from the coast. The park around the waterfall is shady and cool, almost like a tropical oasis with cascading waterfalls, loud birdsong, with a very special atmosphere and tranquillity, which you will not find elsewhere in the town. You can probably imagine how liberating it is to get to the waterfall on a hectic, hot, sticky summer day and then enter the park, where it is just a few degrees colder, a completely different and fresh air and where time almost stands still. This a highly recommended, liberating experience!
